

DataPoint

Promoting Community Quality

Welcome to DataPoint, Diameter Health's inaugural newsletter!

Four years ago, when John D'Amore and I founded Diameter Health, we saw the promise of delivering accurate data to diverse constituents across the healthcare industry. Today we embrace the customers and partners who joined us in our vision to create clinical intelligence from challenging healthcare data.

At Diameter Health, we understand that we are only one of many vendors that make your organization tick but we want to thank you for trusting us, joining our community of game changers, and pushing us forward to improve healthcare across America.

Be on the lookout for DataPoint which we will initially publish quarterly. Expect to see links to product and industry information, news, events, and insight into our employees and customers. Please be bold and send us feedback about this newsletter to feedback@diameterhealth.com. We would also especially welcome feedback about your experiences with our team and products as Diameter Health is committed to continuous improvement to meet our customers' needs.

Warmest regards,

Eric Rosow, CEO
